

Wolfgang Stangl

Designated Member of the Board

Work history

- Korsair Management GmbH Wolfgang Stangl was founder, CEO and owner of Korsair Management GmbH, a German venture capital and PO advisor company with an emphasis on corporate structuring, IPO and going public services mainly for OTC stock exchange markets with a focus on Access Market of Euronext Paris, OTC/OTCQB in the US, and selected German OTC markets. For implementing the listing and cover all legal aspects, he cooperates with specialized local broker and law firms as well as local paying agents. In order to concentrate on other projects as an active participant, Wolf decided to liquid his company in Germany in 2017.
- Since 2001 Wolf has been engaged as advisor to miscellaneous projects mainly in the areas of corporate structuring, developing exit strategies for shareholders and listing of shares, going public and IPOs. He has been appointed member of various boards of directors and advisory committees of privately held and publicly traded companies.
- In 1990 he became editor of the German financial publication "Finanzwoche" and worked as investment strategy consultant for Dr. Ehrhardt Asset Management, in Munich, Germany. In 1994 he formed his own consulting company involved in venture capital and private equity and then expanded his activities into portfolio management for private clients. Wolfgang Stangl held the license, granted by the German Federal Financial Supervisory Authority (BaFin), to work as a finance portfolio manager. In the year 2000 he sold his share of the business.

Education/Training

Wolfgang Stangl has studied political sciences and geography at the Universities of FU Berlin, Germany and Stuttgart, Germany, earning his degree Dipl. sc. Pol. at the Ludwig-Maximilian University, Munich, Germany, where he worked for two years as a university lecturer for international relations, economic policy and political philosophy.