

Peder Malmborg

Chief Financial Officer

Born 1987, Sweden.

Spent most of the last 5 years in London studying and have graduated with an Msc in Banking and Finance at European Business School London, as well as a BA (hons) in Financial Management from Regent's Business School London, both part of Regent's University London.

Working as Chief Financial Officer for Optineo Group AB (publ). Optineo Group AB (publ) is a relatively new investment company that focuses on including companies with sustainable environmental solutions and high growth potential to its portfolio, which at the moment includes three different subsidiaries. Currently the main focus lies within the water purification industry and electric infrastructure for charging cars, bikes etc.

Previously completed internships in Denmark and Sweden, in both asset management and venture capital. Have worked on different transactions and a number of projects in both areas, performing several different kinds of quantitative analysis, having for example been responsible for pricing basket options, implementing the use of Monte-Carlo simulations, as well as portfolio optimizations using the Markowitz theory or Sharpe ratio and other technical analysis at Skandia A/S in Copenhagen.

Tank Commander and Sergeant in the Swedish Armed Forces. Got to learn how to lead a tight knit team in the most efficient way, which was a challenge at times.
